Evaluation of the effectiveness of alternative education modalities promoted by UNICEF	Outcome 2.1 The Honduran population and its institutions undertake a digital and technological transformation through innovation, leaving no one behind. Outcome 2.3 The State of Honduras implements policies, strategies and programmes to strengthen sustainable and resilient development. Outcome 3.3 The Honduran population, especially the excluded, fully exercises its economic, social, cultural, environmental, civil and political rights and benefits from greater equity.	Goal Area 2	Country office thematic evaluation to scale up one of its major programme components	This evaluation will be both formative and summative. It will help measure performance and account for the implementation of two education sector projects (funded by Canada and the Republic of Korea between 2020 and 2023). The evaluation will review whether the interventions were effective in promoting alternative modalities to expand access and improve learning within the education system. In addition, the evaluation of the work carried out under the Re-imagine Education initiative with Giga and the Learning Passport to increase the virtual teaching capacity of the education system, can be included.
