General comments	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The UNSDCF puts a strong focus on secondary education. For example, the UNSDCF results framework has a performance indicator for gross enrolment in lower secondary schools, and on the transition rate from Standard Seven to Form One. UNICEF focuses on secondary education and the transition between primary and secondary, but also on pre-primary education. To what extent does the analysis of the UNSDCF and UNICEF on the importance of secondary education, the transition from primary to secondary education, and pre-primary education differ?

Comments on specific aspects of the draft country programme document	<ol style="list-style-type: none"><li data-bbox="472 199 1218 329">2. For GDP growth numbers (p.2) it might be advisable to use numbers from for example the World Bank (Tanzania Economic Update) and specify if these are nominal or real numbers. <li data-bbox="472 378 1218 613">3. In a presentation of UNICEF’s draft CPD for development partners it was mentioned that enrolment in pre-primary education declined from 94% in 2017 to 79% in 2020. On p.4 of the CPD it is mentioned that ‘the introduction of fee-free compulsory pre-primary education in 2016 led to enrolment increases, but the net pre-primary enrolment rate is only 34 per cent’. Which statement would be correct?
