CHALLENGES AND GAPS

- Previously displaced households are now gradually returning to their homes, but lack sanitation facilities as these were destroyed by the floods.
- The exposure of the returnee population to unsafe water as most public water sources were contaminated by the floods.
- Increase in cases of AWD and other water borne diseases in most hotspots, and limited partner capacities in some areas to initiate timely response.
- Children are forced to crowded available space in schools where classrooms have been lost to the floods.
