Evaluation of the United Nations Population Fund and United Nations Children’s Fund joint programme on female genital mutilation	Outcome 3: By 2026, the population of Guinea-Bissau, especially the most vulnerable, will have increased and equitable access and use of essential quality social services, including in emergencies.	Goal Area 3: Every child, including adolescents, is protected from violence, exploitation, abuse, neglect and harmful practices.	This evaluation is planned in the joint programme evaluation plan.  The joint programme on female genital mutilation is the largest programme under the child protection programme component and requires accountability and learning, especially at the community level.	Improve the implementation of joint programme strategies.  Support the development of tools and guidance for implementing partners.	March 2022	50 000 (OR) 50 000 (Total)
Summative evaluation of the UNICEF Guinea-Bissau partnership with radio stations for behaviour change and the adoption of practices that improve the well-being of children	Outcome 3: By 2026, the population of Guinea-Bissau, especially the most vulnerable, will have increased and equitable access and use of essential quality social services, including in emergencies.	Goal Area 1: Every child, including adolescents, survives and thrives, with access to nutritious diets, quality primary health care, nurturing practices and essential supplies.  Goal Area 2: Every child, including adolescents, learns and acquires skills for the future.	This evaluation will be an important contribution to stocktaking of the effectiveness of the years-long collaboration of UNICEF Guinea-Bissau with community radios and the results to which it has contributed. Formative evaluation of the child survival and development programme	Outcome 3: By 2026, the population of Guinea-Bissau, especially the most vulnerable, will have increased and equitable access and use of essential quality social services, including in emergencies.	Goal Area 1: Every child, including adolescents, survives and thrives, with access to nutritious diets, quality primary health care, nurturing practices and essential supplies.	Child survival and development is a new and large component of the country programme, integrating health, nutrition, HIV and water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH). This programme component therefore requires an evaluation for accountability and organizational learning.  In particular, it is critical to determine the extent to which the integration of WASH into this programme component yields added value.	Improve the implementation strategies pursued under the child survival and development programme component.
